Beloved

We greet you this month with words of righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Spirit. It is our honor and privilege to write you, our friends and partners, with the "good news" of His Kingdom.

The Kingdom of Heaven is in your midst because the Holy Spirit is here and it is activated through your knowledge of Jesus through Him. We continually experience His goodness and mercy and the "good news" is these spiritual forces are new and eternally perpetual each day.

If you meditate on the goodness of Christ, worship will be your response. Worship that originates from thanksgiving is true worship and it always leads to joy in the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit can then lead you into deeper and more profound revelations of Christ, which will lead you into greater expressions of thanksgiving. This will lead you into higher levels of worship, which will reveal more dimensions of Christ and on and on.

What we have just described is an example of activating the kingdom of heaven on earth. Jesus returned the kingdom of His Father to earth so His children could share in the joys of Abba. Your heavenly Father desires to give you the kingdom because He is by nature, a giver and is driven by love to impart His nature and character into all He creates.

He will never force someone or something to receive His goodness or nature. Pride, greed and selfishness will produce that need to find Him because those characteristics will lead to disaster and destruction. The same way it led the devil to rebel against God, it will lead individuals down the same path.

Man determines his destiny and consequences by his choices and if those choices are made to perpetuate self, they will empower fear as the real motivating force behind the visible, tangible goals of riches and power.

We are witnessing the result of wrong choices in society and churches throughout the world. Fear has become the motivating force driving nations to make additional wrong choices and set into motion consequences with dire results. Has the world reached the point of no return? That depends on whom you listen too.

Jesus is the One who purchased this world and all its inhabitants for His Father. Neither man nor the devil has the final word, but Jesus only. He is the One who keeps everything together by His intercession. In fact, if He stops speaking our name every nanosecond (one billionth of a second), I believe we would no longer exist in this dimension, but would enter the place prepared for us by whom we have served while alive in this dimension.

"For by Him all things were made, in heaven and on earth, things seen and things unseen, authorities, lords, rulers, and powers; all things were made by him and for him; He is before all things, and in Him all things have being." Colossians 1:16-17

Notice very closely Paul's choice of words, "in Him all things have being." One translation says, "in and through Him the universe is a harmonious whole."

My interpretation of that scripture is that our time on earth and in this "temple" is for the purpose of discovering and entering Christ through His Kingdom.

There are those whose interpretations of the Bible have forecasted a horrible and unpreventable disaster to annihilate the world and all the "unbelievers." Those who are comfortable with that belief are not worshippers, because they are not mediating on the goodness of Christ.

I choose to worship the One who has saved me from fear and selfishness. I choose to walk in His mercy and goodness, while healing the sick and imparting His goodness to those who are not familiar with the "end time" prophecies, but are hungry for the supernatural life of Christ.

I choose to know Him in an ever-deepening way that changes my very substance into His glorious substance.

The more I worship, the greater revelation of Christ the Holy Spirit shares with me. It has been in those times of exchange that heaven has revealed to me some amazing mysteries of our Lord and His kingdom.

Look up today because your redemption is not in leaving this world, but in overcoming it. The Holy Spirit who created all things is available now to train you with the overcoming power to transform yourself, family and city. Your responsibility is to trust Him and not be persuaded by what others think or say.

Mediate on His goodness and let Him meet you there. You have more to gain than to loose. Our ministry is training those whose hearts and minds are hungry for a fresh visitation of His Spirit. We are excited about the season we are experiencing in our ministry. We are continually surprised by the goodness and mercy of our Lord.

The Lord has made some changes in the ministry, which are designed to serve you better and reach the world more efficiently. We are losing some familiar faces and names and adding new ones.

Our goal will always be to train and release those into their callings. So to those who are leaving we bless them and pray God's mercy and goodness over their lives and family. We welcome and bless those who are putting their shoulders to the plow.

We cannot thank you enough, our partners for your faithfulness in giving to our ministry. We are truly honored that you give to our ministry and honestly, you inspire us with your love and support. We have a staff that prays for you and your gifts to this ministry.

We love you,
